PBC Linear Broadens Pillow Block Offerings to Include Stainless Steel Housings

Roscoe, Illinois, USA – October 09, 2025 – PBC Linear, a Pacific Bearing Company and global leader in linear motion solutions, has expanded its pillow block line with new stainless steel housings. Designed to pair with our Frelon® J bearing liner, this combination offers compatibility with 300 series stainless steel and softer shaft materials like bare aluminum.

The result is a pillow block solution that rounds out our product line by delivering strength, durability, and reliable corrosion resistance.

Stainless steel pillow blocks thrive in a wide range of applications. Their hygienic properties make them ideal for food and beverage environments, while their corrosion and water resistance provide reliable protection in water treatment facilities, marine settings, paper mills, and other industries exposed to harsh chemicals. If assistance is needed in deciding if stainless steel pillow blocks are well suited for your application, contact our application engineers at application.engineering@pbclinear.com.
